COLLEGE

Around 800 people came up the hill to Maryville College in 1956-57. They came from nearby Alcoa, Sevierville and Harri- man, Tennessee, and from farther away Bell, California; Elk City, Oklahoma; Elba, New York and Miami Florida. From forty-one states and countries they came, and this is their story.

The upper classmen renewed old friend- ships, began new ones, and soon settled back down into college life. After the excitement wore off the freshmen followed suit. Before long the year was really under way.

The purpose and only theme of this book is to show the importance of that year. We have attempted to reflect those patterns which are familiar and the people who fol- low them at Maryville College. It is the progress of a year that grows in impor- tance as it slips further into the memories of those that lived it.

ATHLETICS

ACTIVITIES

DR. AND MRS. LLOYD extended greetings at the faculty reception held in honor of the freshmen.

SENIORS Izzy, Virginia, and Margie sampled the punch and enjoyed a private joke.

Punch cups and friendly smiles

A DOUBLE QUARTET of Kappa Phi's sang old favorites and Rev. James Kren "warned" the boys about women at the W.M.C.A. watermelon pow-wow.

Preparing for a year at college can be a confusing, frustrating task. Arranging clothing in under-sized bureaus and closets is trying; adjusting to roommates, dormitory and campus life is often difficult. Through it all the Y.W. and Y.M. make a special effort to help each freshman feel at home. When their activities are combined with the faculty reception, student mixer, and college sing—all with their punch cups and friendly smiles—it doesn't take long for a freshman to get used to the friendly atmosphere that predominates at M.C.

FLIPPANT FLAPPER Diane Wadas demonstrated the dance craze of a few years ago at the Y.W.C.A. Big-Little Sister party.

MESSENGER of the gods, Chuck Frissell, reclines while waiting for the nine muses' choice between immortality or romance. The latter won.

Presenting a rush week show the week after returning to the campus is a difficult task, but Bainonian and Kappa Phi managed very nicely their production of "When In Rome." Overnight the campus became the scene of fountains, Roman pillars, Nero, and Neptune rising out of the sea, as the societies presented their best sides to the prospective new members. Other than the formal show, which was written and directed by Barbara Wilkie, the freshmen were entertained with a tea and a square dance. Generally, a good time was had roamin' with the Romans.

When in Rome . . .

TYPICAL AMERICAN TOURISTS in Rome caused the nine muses to question the value of immortality.

GRAPE JUICE, women, and song concluded a successful rush week show.

A PAIR from the carnival, Ruth Wagner as the bearded lady and Bill Strickland as the strong man provided romantic interest and comedy.

THE CHAMPION green apple eater asked if someone wouldn't like to meet a sweet old-fashioned girl. Someone would.

Come to the fair

After two hectic weeks of cast rehearsals, chorus rehearsals, and set construction, Theta Epsilon and Alpha Sigma extended an invitation to all freshmen to "Come to the Fair." The formal show, written and capably directed by Herchal Netherton, contained such interesting features as a ferris-wheel, a "Mammy"-singing show girl and a chorus line. The fortune teller and Kiss-O-Meter attracted much attention as part of the campus decorations. Other events to honor the freshmen were a fashion show and a splash party in the college pool. While inviting the freshmen to come to the fair, the hard working Sigs and Thetas were also extending an invitation to join Theta or Sig.

ONE OF THE BEST NUMBERS in the show was Colleen Crawford, as Mimi the Carnival show girl, singing and otherwise interpreting "Swanee."

BOBBYE CARSON, as Ma, finally gave her consent for the girls to go to the fair as the sheriff and some carnival men looked on.

A GROUP of contented Theta "cows" were sung to by an umbrella-carrying Alpha Sigma pledge

Cows and gladiators on the green

Theta cows, Kappa Phi gladiators, Bainonian servant girls, and Alpha Sig burlap boys ran loose on the campus green during society initiation. It was a mad day of foot washings, egg rolls, cow bells, sheets, dining hall parades, onion eating contests, and other activities long to be remembered by all.

A KAPPA PHI gladiator and Bainonian servant girl kneel in reverence to their superiors.

HUNGRY STUDENTS waited in front of Pearsons before the noon meal.

RELAXING under a tree and comparing class notes was sometimes necessary, usually enlightening.

Just a little relaxation

There were times when some felt that just a little relaxation was needed from the daily cycle of eat-study-sleep. It was then that the parties were given, the impromptu get-togethers held, and the real getting-to-know each other took place. Some went to the student center, some met in dorm rooms or under trees, and others took week-end hikes. As a result, real bonds were discovered and lasting friendships were begun. This was a vital part of our college life.

FRESHMEN GIRLS enjoyed frequent get-togethers in rooms where under-pinnings were sometimes over-hangings.

BRAVE AND ADVENTURESOME YMCA members hiked overnight in the Smokies.

THE GROOM'S COURSE taught men what women do in the kitchen.

The bell didn't ring

Homecoming with its parade, dorm decorations, pep rally, dance, and flood of alums, is one of the biggest events in the Fall. Organizations and dorms spend weeks planning themes and decorations and setting up committees—and finally settle down to working the day or night before.

ROBB GWALTNEY and Don Newroth worked long and hard on the Kappa Phi float.

FINISHED KAPPA PHI float featured Bainonians Sue Tourtellotte, Lydia Munson, and Kathie Briggs.

Baldwin Hall's industrious group of girls won first place in the float contest and in dorm decorations.

It was a nice day, and things looked hopeful for Maryville, but due to a last-second pass the Anderson bell didn't ring to announce a victory for the Scotties. Nevertheless, it was a good Homecoming.

QUEEN ANN added charm to the Homecoming parade.

BALDWIN GIRLS made last minute adjustments on their float.

MARY NEWTON, Ruth Wagner, and Laine Rowe, riding on the Baldwin Float, urged the team to "Ring That Bell."

STUDENTS VOTED for class sponsors, queens, student body president and amendments to the Constitution.

STUDENT HELP jobs were held down in the bookstore, dining hall, printing office and other places.

Ballot boxes and bathing beauties

TED McDANIELS moderated the first student forum, which was held to determine those areas of student life in which student Council needed to work.

BATHING CUTIES relaxed before their swimming class in the college pool.

Students expressed their opinions on ballots and in student forum meetings, and spent a good deal of time working their ways through college on the student help program. These were some of the more serious activities. On the lighter side there were the spirited society rivalries in the girls' Powder Puff football game and the boys' Stinkin' Shoe Classiques, the after supper dances, the town nights, and the bathing beauties. Experiences during the year were varied and interesting—from ballot boxes to bathing beauties.

LYDIA MUNSON, Natalie Richards and the Stinkin' Shoe trophy from the classiques of the same name.

BAINONIAN ball handlers received a pep talk and instructions for the next quarter from coach Ted McDaniels. In spite of it all, Theta won.

Romance in the jungle

COCOANUT EATING native, Dick Bickford, preparing his next meal.

Leis, cocoanut meat, and girls in sarongs set the stage for "Beyond the Sea," the 1956 Barnwarming show. Sponsored by the YW and YMCA, the show was written and directed by Bill Deerfield. Mary Ellen Lee was in charge of the chorus work, while Herchal Netherton and Gail Harrison managed the set. The proceeds from the annual Barnwarming show were to go to the International Christian University of Japan. One of the Y's biggest events of the year, Barnwarming is traditionally held on Thanksgiving night.

BARNWARMING COURT was composed of freshmen Mike Mathews and Charlotte Blanchard, sophomores Ted Frauman and Georgene Rohlander, QUEEN Virginia Marshall and KING James McCall, seniors Shirley Peterson and Sam Buffat, and juniors Joan Neckerman and Dave Krotehko.

EARTHY ENTERTAINER. Sallie Kinsinger, with the wealthy society family Bobby Carson, Howard Mays, Myrna Ginaven and Bob Davies got stranded in the jungle.

ROMANCE BLOOMED when half-native boy Don Nabors presented Myrna with a contest souvenir. High priestess Colleen Crawford and ex-girl friend Gail Shiffer weren't too pleased.

"BONGO, BONGO, BONGO, I don't want to leave the Congo," sang native boys Bob Stevens, Butch Christie, and Bob Finertie, as they explained why they didn't want to become a night club act.

DR. HUNTER was his usual droll self for the benefit of his appreciative sophomores.

The five divisions of the college kept their students busy from the first day of the semester until the last. There were papers to be written, speeches to be given, assignments to be read, and lessons to be practiced. Teachers explained and discussed material, made more assignments, and listened to reasons as to why previous assignments had not been completed. Often they reiterated fundamentals that had been offered earlier in the semester. Some students found it necessary to set the alarm for six in order to finish assignments while others threw up their academic hands in despair and slept on.

ANN KELTON practiced in the Music Hall while Mr. Bloy made corrections and suggestions.

THE LIBRARY STAFF copes with problems from the most complex research questions to that old friend "outside reading" which is probably the problem in this case.

JIM McCALL, chemistry major, worked extra hours in the lab on a little project known as chemistry special studies.

ASLEEP? They don't look like it but maybe they're good fakers. At any rate, they appear to be interested.

DR. EDWARD BRUBAKER led discussions and gave eighteen sermons on the "Danger of Becoming Christian."

Emphasis on religion

DR. HENRY BARRACLOUGH, guest accompanist also for the fifth year satisfied the upperclassmen's smiles of anticipation and startled freshmen with his forceful piano playing.

The 31st February Meetings, held from February 6-14, revolved around the theme, "Danger of Becoming Christian" and included such provocative sermon titles as "The Seven Deadly Virtues," "Putting Your Faith Through College," "How Much Do I Need God," and "Jukebox Religion." The leaders were Dr. Edward Brubaker, Pastor of the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia; Dr. John Magill, Pastor of the Abington Presbyterian Presbytery; and Dr. Henry Barracough, Assistant State Clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

DR. JOHN MAGILL led "God of Our Fathers" in four different keys, sang solos, directed the Vesper Choir and otherwise fulfilled his task as songleader for the fifth year.

The Maryville College-Community Artist Series presented students, faculty, and townspeople a full and varied program of entertainment during the 1956-57 season. On October 26 the Fine Arts Quartet appeared, followed by "a little of this, something of that . . . mostly humor!" from Arthur Treacher on November 16. In the second semester, the Roger Wagner Chorale was well received on February 18, and David Bar-illan, pianist, closed out the series on April 8.

It takes four years, sometimes longer, to accumulate enough credits to be awarded a diploma, and less than forty seconds are required to walk across a stage and secure that same diploma, along with congratulations and a handshake. On May 23, 1956 the culmination of 127 seniors' four years of college came when they were handed a sheepskin—not necessarily their own, but nevertheless a sheepskin. They had graduated and were now ready to begin making new lives outside of Maryville College

The President

In a letter to new students, Dr. Lloyd recommended four qualities to be used as keys to a successful college career as listed by Dr. Tyndale Wilson. These qualities are breadth of vision, thorough scholarship, spiritual religion, and unselfish service. These qualities are not only for success in college. Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Waldo Lloyd have been at Maryville twenty-six years and these ideals have been from the first the guide and key in their successful roles.

Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd are vital to Maryville, its qualities, ideals, keys and traditions. They welcome you to Maryville, and the CHILHOWEAN staff joins them in welcoming you not only to Maryville, but also to the record of events that remains almost the same throughout the years. YOUR 1956-1957 CHILHOWEAN.

DEAN McCLELLAND

Dr. Frank D. McClelland is perhaps our hardest working and least applauded figure on the Maryville College campus. His efficiency and fairness in the face of tremendous odds are greatly appreciated by those who know what a grand person he is. Handling admissions along with everything else, he is responsible for the very first welcome a would-be Maryville College student receives. For his friendship and understanding, here's to our dean, Dr. McClelland.

DEAN MASSEY

Dean of Women and friend to all, Miss Frances Massey is our nominee for Maryville College Woman of the Year. She is the central authority of the women on the campus, but bends over backward to be more than fair. She is an angel, and she has earned the respect of administration and students alike. Don't tremble when asking for special permission, girls—the worst she can do is say no, but you can count on it, her answer will probably be "Yes, and have a grand time!"

DR. EDWIN RAY HUNTER

Acknowledgment

To Dr. Hunter—our grand friend, our top-notch, hilarious professor, our guide in more ways than many realize—to him is this acknowledgment made. At Maryville since 1918, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree at M.C., his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Chicago and an Honorary Litt.D. degree at Maryville College. Dr. Hunter is head of the English Department, Chairman of the Division of Languages and Literature, Chairman of the Committee on Special Studies, and until the 1956-57 school year was Dean of Curriculum. A noted Shakspeare authority, Dr. Hunter published Shakspeare and Common Sense, in 1954.

This year we've missed him behind the big desk in the Curriculum Office and we've missed his priceless chapel announcements, but we never fail to see him in the classroom, on the campus, at sports events, recitals, art openings, Vespers, his Sunday School class and plays. We'll never fail to see him there because they are a vital part of Maryville College and so is Dr. Hunter—our Dr. Hunter.

The Student Council

This representative group is chosen by the student body, from the student body to establish a more satisfactory academic, social, and spiritual program for Maryville College and its students. Cooperating with the administration and promoting matters of student interest, the Council is never at a loss for something to do. Council works closely with Student-Faculty Senate and through the Senate, with the Executive Council of the faculty. Twenty-four members make up the council, and the president and vice-president are elected by all four classes. Each class elects its own representatives—four each from the freshmen and sophomore classes and five each from the junior and senior classes. The president appoints such chairmen as Student Organizations, Social, Pep, Athletics and others. Every Wednesday night at 8:30, the Student Center is the home of new ideas and old methods with a new twist that Student Council comes up with. The 1956-1957 Student Council has made a vast impression on the campus. Under direct influence of the Council came the new Men's Cooperative whereby the men now have a governing body and will be represented on Council. Such maintenance improvements as repainting the ping-pong tables and providing a new magazine rack in the Student Center came under the work of the projects committee. Milk machines in three of the dorms have proven highly successful. A Student Forum, giving all students on campus a chance to express their opinions was a new idea sponsored by Student Council and proved to be enlightening and informative. All these things makes council a vital part of the campus. A well-organized body of capable members attempts to speak up and speak correctly for the students behind it and does its utmost to insure a good Student Government. Council is still in a period of organization and has been for some time, but Student Council will continue to regulate all-campus events and consider those things which make for a better college and finer citizens.

W . S . G . A .

The W.S.G.A. allows women students an opportunity to participate in the administration of dormitory life. Two representatives from each class make up the governing board and are able to present problems and solutions from the viewpoints of the four classes and the three dorms. This organization takes steps to improve or correct any rule which has proven itself impractical or obsolete, and must see that standard rules are adhered to. Striving to work more closely with Student Council, W.S.G.A. continues to work with the women and the faculty to make sure that a good relationship exists between these groups, concerning both on and off the campus activities.

Throughout the season the Highlanders showed promise of producing a winning combination. There were times when only mediocre ball was played and other times when sharp blocking and sure-fire ball handling indicated victory and success for the Highlanders. There were "highs" and

"lows" in performances throughout the season, but the morale of the student body was at such a peak that many seniors remarked that the school spirit equaled anything they had seen at Maryville. The top exhibition of enthusiasm was seen at the Tennessee Wesleyan contest when four busloads of students made the trip and cheered heartily in the rain as the Orange and Garnet produced a 21-6 victory. The top disappointment of the season occurred in the Homecoming game with Emory and Henry when apparent victory was snatched away from Maryville in the waning seconds of the game. A desperate pass thrown by the Wasp quarterback inflicted a 13-9 defeat against Maryville. The tower bell was all but rung as the victory slipped so easily out of hand.

Maryville scored 131 points while giving the opponents only a total of 152 points, yet lost six games and won only three. This is phenomenal, but shows the games were closely fought all the way and were any-

Bill Wallace, Number 25, in the middle of a hook shot

Combining experience with teamwork and hustle found the Scotties playing before an enthusiastic home crowd and coming up with their share of victories. The campaign opened with a 73-64 loss at the hands of a strong Hiwassee outfit. But behind 6' 3" Wallace and 6' 4" Gregory and newcomer Morris the scotties rallied to defeat tough King 79-76. Centre took the next game 79-77 in a closely-played contest. Tusculum was the next victory by an 89 to 64 score over the Scotties. After the holidays the roundballers lost to King by a score of 83 to 57 and played on the home court to Hiwassee and won by a 101 to 94 margin.

As was expected, experience aided considerably in the record of Honaker's men. Bill Wallace, Jim Gregory, and Jack French all had seen their share of Maryville games to really feel at home on the hardwood. John West and Jack Crouch also figured prominently with good out-court shooting and ball-handling well above par. But perhaps the biggest crowd drawer was 6' 1" sophomore Tom Morris who exhibited the style which made him one of the top scorers in the fast Intramural League last year. Loping-like antics combined with fast-breaks enabled him to break into the open and Morris became a consistent scorer for Coach Honaker and a favorite of the fans.

It is expected that this year's squad will improve on last year's record on the hardwood. Prospects are bright for next year with newcomers Hannah Tepper and Womack showing improvement.

Wrestling

Trying to duplicate last year's team showing in the Southeastern Invitational Wrestling Tournament Coach Davis started early conditioning the Scottie grapplers for the seven regularly-scheduled matches. Leading the way was Jerry Waters in the 123-lb. class, Max Williamson at 137 lbs., and John Hawkins in the heavyweight class. With other strong promising wrestlers the outlook was good for Maryville. The season opened with a victory by a score of 20-16 over Knoxville Y with Hawkins, Williamson, Hill, and Waters all pinning their opponents successfully. A return match saw Maryville victorious over Knoxville Y by a 28 to 12 score. Chattanooga won over the Scotties 20-10. The score at Auburn proved the Plainsmen still tops as a 32-2 score indicated. The success can be attributed to each grappler's keeping in shape and by his consistently giving his all match after match.

Baseball

The 1956 season proved to be a successful one with a 11-6 record being established. The Scots scored three victories over Hiwassee, two over Milligan and Tusculum, and one each over Tennessee Wesleyan, Carson-Newman, East Tennessee State and Emory and Henry. LMU was the only school to upset the Scots in both encounters.

The start of the season saw Maryville winning three out of the first five games.

After winning over Tusculum and dropping decisions to Carson-Newman and ETSC the Scots had a respectable four game win skein going before LMU upset the Honaker men by a 20-6 score.

Offensive stars at the plate were Bill Evans, Don Moore, Chuck Dunn, and John West.

Outstanding hurlers for the Scots were Jim Cole and Max Williamson, each winning two games each.

Tennis

The Scottie netmen finished their regular 1956 season in excellent form sweeping their last three meets. The Netters finished the season compiling a 6-4 record. Wins included a 9-0 victory over King, a 6-3 decision at the expense of Carson-Newman and an 8-0 victory over Chattanooga. The 1957 combine should have strength in Stan Mont, Ted Engle, Bruce Ingles, and Charles Garrison with several new faces showing promise on the courts for Maryville.

First Row: Muir, Tropansky, Ramger, Hall, Williams, Christie, Waters, Carpenter. Second Row: Higerd, Davis, McFarland, Potter, Wyman, Strickland, Dolch, Morris, Finertie, Johnson.

As was expected, the revival of track brought much renewed interest to Maryville. The Scottie thinclads proved their worth as they copped their first three meets and came in second in a triangle-meet with ETSC and Milligan. The scores included wins of $86\frac{1}{2}$ - $44\frac{1}{2}$ over Milligan and two victories over the barriers of Tusculum by scores of 85-46 and 83-48. Maryville came in second in the triangle-meet with 51 points compared to a total of 76 points amassed by ETSC.

The highlights of the season saw two unofficial records as fleet-footed Joe Williams, the Scottie half-miler, smashed the long-standing mark of 2' 0.6" for the 880 set some 23 years ago. Jerry Waters raised the school mark an inch for the pole vault, setting it at 11' 4". Another mark was threatened as Charlie Garrison was just nine-tenths of a second off the school record of 51.4 in the 440.

The leading scorer for the past season was Bob Ramger who consistently held his own in the broad jump, 100-yard dash, low hurdles, and who was a member of the mile-relay team. Although he will be greatly missed, the enthusiastic Harriers, aided by Coach Ken Johnson, have due cause to be confident with meets to be held this year and might possibly go to the state meet if the necessary arrangements can be made.

It was indeed a great year for the track team and we can expect fine showings in the near future.

Membership in the Men's "M" Club is coveted, as it is only those who have proved themselves worthy by meeting stiff requirements who are members. Having won a varsity letter and proved themselves to be all-around sportsmen, these men are indeed the models we hold up to our competitors on the playing field as our conception of real sports. The purpose of the organization is to further the bonds of athletic brotherhood on the Maryville campus, to be of service to the school and the athletic program, and to increase loyalty to the best interests of the College. All girls on campus are gladly invited and often urged to come out for this sports program. The purpose in their activities is to produce a total fitness and to develop the most desirable and attractive physical, mental and social qualities. Not only in the former respects does W.A.A. succeed, but also in providing an excellent and enjoyable use of leisure time. In friendly rivalry with the Howies, both teams profit from the experiences they have gained.

Hiking the “loop” is one of the favorite pastimes and some of the girls are apt to be at it almost any time of the day. All the fun and fellowship is rewarded at the end of the year when the points that the girls have won are totalled, making possible a letter, sweater, or both and membership in the Women’s “M” Club.

Nero, Neptune, tall Roman pillars and the nine muses were all reincarnated during Bainonian-Kappa Phi Rush Week, making it a grand success for all concerned. "When in Rome . . ." left the campus in an uproar of approval. Initiation brought girls in sheets to the public eye and then Bainonian life settled down to normal—if one can call it that. "Going Forward," the original Greek meaning of the word Bainonian, is typified on every occasion wherein Bainonian is represented. The banquet, skit night and the Spring Dance offered excellent opportunity for fun, work, and an exhibition of talent. The friendly rivalry with Theta on the football field and basketball court is always a treat to everyone. Joint meetings with Kappa Phi and their joint enterprises, ideas, and results constitutes a wide-awake group on campus. The cheering section at football games was supplemented by tiny banners and the orange and garnet card section.

The oldest society on campus, Kappa Phi is the "society of friendship." In their own house with a TV set and new curtains and furniture, Kappa Phi has a solid, undisputed position on campus. Rush Week and the Spring Dance were sponsored with its sister society, Bainonian and both were huge successes along with skit night, Spaghetti Dinner, and the 89th Anniversary Banquet. Six senior Bainonians are chosen by the men of Kappa Phi to be presented at the Leading Ladies Show every February. Treats like this coupled with the strong intramural program and the Stinkin' Shoe Classiques with Sig are in the life of every Kappa Phi. The alumni welcoming program for Homecoming and the Bainonian-Kappa Phi cheering section at the football games were successful. Dave Morris as Biff tries to explain what he really is and what he feels to Willy, his father, portrayed by John Ribble, in this cafe scene from the Playhouse fall major production, Death of a Salesman.

Maryville Playhouse

In the eerie and quietly powerful opening scene from Death of a Salesman, Ann Wiley as Linda, waits with apprehension the approach of her husband.

Playhouse membership is open to any student on the campus who likes to act, build sets, paint backdrops, regulate sound effects and lighting and just plain work—with and for the things he loves. No activity on campus gives as much to do to so many people all at one time with as much fun thrown in as does Playhouse. Members accumulate points to become players, then masterplayers and may be elected to membership in Theta Alpha Phi, the national honorary drama fraternity. Playhouse gives three major productions a year, fall, spring and commencement, and numerous experimentals. The three majors in '56 and '57 were Death of a Salesman, by Arthur Miller, Beggar on Horseback, by Mack Connelley and Medea, by Robinson Jeffers.

Since it is impossible to live over any of those experiences in rehearsal or production that accompanied either the major or the three experimental of the fall semester, these pictures are the next best thing. Land of the Dragon, the first experimental is not pictured but our regard for its performance is not lessened. The hilarity of Green Pastures and the tragedy of Riders to the Sea were coupled into a night of entertainment which experimental theatre is expert at providing.

Death of a Salesman, at the time of this printing was the only major production we had seen, but knowing Playhouse, its tireless director, Miss Craven, and its members, we won't be disappointed in anything that is to come. This fall major has been heralded beyond all expectations and played to a packed house, rapt from the opening scene until the last second. This powerfully moving conflict was so real we didn't realize that Willy, Linda, Biff and Hap were our own friends, giving us a lesson unequalled in the classroom.

In the make-up room, Ann Wiley is caught putting on the final touches before greying her hair. Such minute detail so often overlooked from the audience but vital "on stage" may be noticed in "Linda Lowman's" wedding ring.

De Lawd and Gabriel (i.e. Buffat and O'Bannon) discuss the affairs of heaven in the experimental's selected scenes from Green Pastures.

Virginia Hine as the mother in the experimental Riders to the Sea, is comforted by her daughters and neighbors.

Men's Glee Club

OFFICERS

DICK DOWS*President*
 CLARK ELDRIDGE*Secretary-Treasurer*

Men's Glee Club consists of all men on campus who are interested in singing and who have adequate ability. Under the direction of Mr. Dan Kinsinger, these men join with the Women's Choir to present an annual operetta. The Men's Glee Club sings on several occasions, sometimes at Vespers, and at various other times and places.

Women's Choir

OFFICERS

RUTH WILSON*President*
 GAIL SHIFFER*Social Chairman*
 BARBARA COATES*Secretary-Treasurer*

Women's Choir is an organization of the women at Maryville who like to sing and can. Their biggest undertaking is the operetta which they give each year with the Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Dan Kinsinger. This popular organization is made of those who like to sing for the joy of singing. The Women's Choir joined with the Men's Glee Club in giving a pops concert which we hope will be an annual affair.

MR. RALPH MOORE
Director

Band

Made up of all those students who are interested in representing Maryville College at football games, pep rallies and on the campus in general, the Highlanders Band was better than ever in the 1956-1957 season. Under the direction of Mr. Ralph Moore, the band was the pride of all during the football season, sporting new spats to complete the novelty of their kilts ranks.

LEFT: Weferling, Bowman, Keeney, West, Short, Flag Bearer; Morton; Band Sponsor, Bugenhagen; Drum Major, Williams; Flag Bearer, Harrison.

Orchestra

Both students and faculty are members of the orchestra at Maryville College, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Moore. The orchestra is a mark of cultural achievement at Maryville and presents two programs of classical music. The orchestra is used to accompany the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" and also accompanies an outstanding senior piano major in the performance of a concerto.

String Ensemble

Under the sponsorship of Miss Katherine Crews, the String Ensemble is a vital part of Messiah, Christmas Vespers and numerous other musical presentations on the campus. The group is not the same throughout the year but enough of the same ones are chosen to give the group unity. The major contribution of the string ensemble, second semester, was accompanying the Vesper Choir in the Bach Cantata.

Messiah

Every year at Maryville is another year of the presentation of Handel's "Messiah." The Vesper Choir, the Men's Glee Club, the Women's Choir, and many other people from the campus and community, join together under the direction of Mr. Harry H. Harter to sing this beautiful oratorio. Given traditionally two Sundays before Christmas holidays, rehearsals begin long in advance. Soloists are selected after extensive try-outs and everyone works his hardest to make each "Messiah" better than ever.

Art Activities

The Art Club, as it is informally known, brings together once a month those art majors and other students who are interested in learning more about the world of art. Readings and lectures on various subjects are given, and several types of entertainment are enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Beard, the art instructors, are the sponsors of the Club. Other than these monthly meetings, the art students occasionally exhibit their own works in student art exhibits. These exhibits are eagerly anticipated and usually quite popular with the members of the student body.

Several times a year showings are made of interesting collections from national art galleries. Each showing is usually accompanied by a lecture, either by the artists themselves or by a qualified critic.

Gail Harrison ponders over an art exhibit.

The CHILHOWEAN has been an interesting experience to say the least, or perhaps the most. It has been interesting to watch the development of the yearbook, to discover more about the mechanics of Maryville College, and particularly to discover the different attitudes which exist among the student body and faculty towards the annual. Yes, it has been interesting.

It must be stated that the 1957 CHILHOWEAN is not an original book. The ideas that went into it were borrowed from a wide variety of sources—from other yearbooks, from certain students and faculty members, from the Benson Printing Company, and from staff members who were themselves influenced by other sources often times unknown.

Willia Duvall, Bob Hassall, Ann Wiley and Eleonore Koster, the editorial Staff.

There were times when we felt that we weren't going to be able to meet the deadlines—trying times when copy and pictures were misplaced, when tensions were high and tempers ran short. Sometimes we wondered if it was worth it. We decided it was.

Special thanks should go to Mr. John T. Benson, III, of the Benson Printing Company for information, advice, and lectures; to Mr. Hampton of the Public Relations Office for several pictures; and to Ann Wiley who held the crying towel and sat up long hours helping to finish the book.

Between these covers are the results of a year's work. We hope it meets your needs and expectations now and in the years to come. Thanks again. It has been an interesting year.

The Highland Echo, the Maryville College newspaper, is edited this year by Betty Springstead. Publishing campus news, humor and happenings, the Echo is a vital part of the college. Staff members must try-out and then be chosen for their ability by the student-faculty Publications Committee. Printed nearly every week, the Echo has covered some rough ground this year, but has come out on top and is steadily improving. Visitors on campus, sports events, a rundown of world affairs, society highlights, culture and editorials are but few of the Echo's news stories.

Each member presents an original composition each semester and criticizes the work of another member. At each weekly meeting at least two persons read and are criticized. "Chips" is the official record of the year's best pieces and is published every spring.
